

Notes from Katy

Hey Agora Crew - Here's what we've been up to!

SHOT FOR SHOT

Last month, we hosted a great event that provided an opportunity for all women to have a professional headshot taken - at no charge! Thanks to the photographers, and all who came out to support us.

Upcoming Events:

April 13th: Artist Reception @ Bear's for Michael Miller

April 14th: Multi-Artist opening reception at artspace

April 23rd: Last chance to see James Mark's work at the Korner Lounge

April 28th: Grant Deadline for "Take Notice" grant

New prints in store from Dean Dablow

KAREN LA BEAU @ THE LOT
DEAN DABLOW @ LAKE ST GALLERY

Karen La Beau opened a curated showing of her body of work (left).

Dean Dablow showed his newest project, "Art School Floor" for the first time at Lake Street Gallery (right).

You can see both artist's work until May 2022.

FEATURED WRITER: CHRISTIANE DRIELING

"There is So Much More"

About performance artist Elizabeth Sheeler, by Christiane Drieling

The Louisiana Center for the Blind (LCB) in Ruston has partnered with "ART ON 45" (a Ruston-based juried visual art project with a fundraising aspect) this year to help grow the dialogue between sighted and blind people through art. In this context I had the wonderful opportunity to talk with blind artist and former LCB student Elizabeth Sheeler, learn about her exciting doings and goals, and exchange views and perspectives about art.
